

For The Wynn Privacy Policy

When you visit the For The Wynn web site to browse information it contains, you do so anonymously unless you choose to provide us information about yourself. If you do nothing during your visit but browse through the Web site—reading pages, viewing photographs, or downloading information for example—we will gather and store certain information about your visit automatically. This information does not identify you personally.

This gathering and storing of information is separate from the activity described as monitoring in the following three (3) paragraphs:

*This system and related software and equipment are intended solely for the communication, transmission, processing, and storage of For the Wynn information. For site security purposes and to ensure that this website remains available to all users, For The Wynn monitors network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information or to otherwise cause damage to the site. Anyone using this Web site expressly consents to such monitoring.

Unauthorized attempts to modify any information stored on this system, to defeat or circumvent security features, or to utilize this system for other than its intended purposes are prohibited and may result in criminal prosecution.

If monitoring reveals evidence of possible criminal activity, such evidence may be provided to law enforcement personnel. In addition, if you send us a threat or comments that might constitute a threat, or your comments contain information about criminal activities, we may provide that and associated information to law enforcement and/or other appropriate authorities and counselors.

Information gathered automatically is used for, among other things, site management, compiling reports of usage statistics, and, in the case of suspected unauthorized activity, for law enforcement and possible criminal prosecution.

The following are representative of the types of information automatically collected and stored about your visit:

- the Internet domain and Internet Protocol (IP) address from which you access our Web site;
- the type of Internet browser and the operating system of the computer you use to access our site;
- the date and time you visit our site;
- the pages you visit on our site;
- if you linked to our Web site from another Web site, the address of that Web site;
- and, if you linked to our Web site from a search Web site, the address of that Web site and the search term you used.

For The Wynn, uses reasonable administrative, technical, personnel, and physical measures to safeguard personally identifiable information in its possession against loss, theft, and unauthorized use, disclosure or modification.

When a user joins the forums as a member, certain information is requested. This information includes the user's name and email address. When the sign up process has completed, our script automatically logs the IP address into the user's profile as well.

Please keep in mind that any information that is disclosed in forums becomes public information even though the forums are accessible only to current guild members. You should exercise caution when deciding to disclose your personal information in forum posts. All personal information collected during registration will remain confidential and only accessible by the site administration. Please be advised that passwords are not visible to any administrators or technical personnel once an account is created.

Opinions in messages posted in any forums located on our service are not necessarily the views of For The Wynn. We maintain no liability for any legal action resulting from postings in forums located on our service. When posting a message to a forum, your IP address is automatically logged with your post. This will be used to prosecute any criminal activity, such as spamming or threats. All information logged may be furnished to the guild legal counsel in pursuit of keyloggers and unauthorized account access.

If you have any questions or wish to file a complaint, please e-mail the site administrator at webmaster@forthewynn.info, call For The Wynn at (605) 593-4274, or send a letter to:
